Section B – Issuer and Guarantor

Element	Title
B.1	Legal and commercial name of the Issuer	The Issuer of the Notes is BNP Paribas Fortis SA/NV, Legal Entity Identifier: KGCEPHLVVKVRZYO1T647 (" BNPPF ")
B.2	Domicile/ legal form/ legislation/ country of incorporation	BNPPF is incorporated as a public company with limited liability (société anonyme/naamloze vennootschap) under the laws of Belgium having its registered office at 1000 Brussels, rue Montagne du Parc 3 and is a credit institution governed by the Belgian law of 25 April 2014 on the status and supervision of credit institutions (" Belgian Banking Law ").
B.4b	Trend information	Macroeconomic environment

Element	Title
		Macroeconomic and market conditions affect BNPPF's results. The nature of BNPPF's business makes it particularly sensitive to macroeconomic and market conditions in Europe. In 2018, global growth remained healthy at around 3.7% (according to the IMF), reflecting a stabilised growth rate in advanced economies (+2.4% after +2.3% in 2017) and in emerging economies (+4.6% after +4.7% in 2017). Since the economy was at the peak of its cycle in large developed countries, central banks continued to tighten accommodating monetary policy or planned to taper it. With inflation levels still moderate, however, central banks were able to manage this transition gradually, thereby limiting the risks of a marked downturn in economic activity. Thus, the IMF expects the global growth rate experienced over the last two years to continue in 2019 (+3.5%) despite the slight slowdown expected in advanced economies. In this context, the following two risk categories can be identified: Risks of financial instability due to the conduct of monetary policies Two risks should be emphasised: a sharp increase in interest rates and the current, very accommodating monetary policy being maintained for too long. On the one hand, the continued tightening of monetary policy in the United States (which started in 2015) and the less accommodating monetary policy in the euro zone (reduction in asset purchases started in January 2018, with an end in December 2018) involve risks of financial turbulence and economic slowdown were pronounced than expected. The risk of an inadequately-controlled rise in long-term interest rates may in particular be emphasised, under the scenario of an unexpected increase in inflation or an unanticipated tightening of monetary policies. If this risk materialises, it could have negative consequences on the asset markets, particularly those for which risk premiums are extremely low compared to their historic average, following a decade of accommodating monetary policies (credit to non-investment grade corporates or countries, certain sectors of the equity and bond markets etc.) as well as on certain interest rate sensitive sectors. On the other hand, despite the upturn since mid-2016, interest rates remain low, which may encourage excessive risk-taking among some financial market participants: lengthening maturities of financings and assets held, less

Element	Title
		stringent credit policy, and an increase in leveraged financings. Some of these participants (insurance companies, pension funds, asset managers, etc.) have an increasingly systemic dimension and in the event of market turbulence (linked for example to a sharp rise in interest rates and/or a sharp price correction) they could be brought to unwind large positions in relatively weak market liquidity. Systemic risks related to increased debt Macroeconomically, the impact of an interest rate increase could be significant for countries with high public and/or private debt-to-GDP ratio. This is particularly the case for certain European countries (in particular Greece, Italy and Portugal), which are posting public debt-to-GDP ratios often above 100%, but also for emerging countries. Between 2008 and 2018, the latter recorded a marked increase in their debt, including foreign currency debt owed to foreign creditors. The private sector was the main source of the increase in this debt, but also the public sector to a lesser extent, particularly in Africa. These countries are particularly vulnerable to the prospect of a tightening in monetary policies in the advanced economies. Capital outflows could weigh on exchange rates, increase the costs of servicing that debt, import inflation and cause the emerging countries' central banks to tighten their credit conditions. This would bring about a reduction in forecasted economic growth, possible downgrades of sovereign ratings and an increase in risks for the banks. While the exposure of the BNP Paribas Group to emerging countries is limited, the vulnerability of these economies may generate disruptions in the global financial system that could affect the BNP Paribas Group (including BNPPF) and potentially alter its results. It should be noted that debt-related risk could materialise, not only in the event of a sharp rise in interest rates, but also with any negative growth shocks. Laws and Regulations Applicable to Financial Institutions Recent and future changes in the laws and regulations applicable to financial institutions may have a significant impact on BNPPF. Measures that were recently adopted or which are (or whose application measures are) still in draft format, that have or are likely to have an impact on BNPPF notably include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • regulations governing capital: the Capital Requirements Directive IV ("CRD4")/the Capital Requirements Regulation ("CRR"), the international

Element	Title
		standard for total loss-absorbing capacity ("TLAC") and BNPP's designation as a financial institution that is of systemic importance by the Financial Stability Board; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the structural reforms comprising the Belgian banking law of 25 April 2014 (as amended) on the status and supervision of credit institutions, the "Volcker rule" in the US, which restricts proprietary transactions, sponsorship and investment in private equity funds and hedge funds by US and foreign banks; • the European Single Supervisory Mechanism and the ordinance of 6 November 2014; • the Directive of 16 April 2014 related to deposit guarantee systems and its delegation and implementing decrees, the Directive of 15 May 2014 establishing a Bank Recovery and Resolution framework, the Single Resolution Mechanism establishing the Single Resolution Council and the Single Resolution Fund; • the Final Rule by the US Federal Reserve imposing tighter prudential rules on the US transactions of large foreign banks, notably the obligation to create a separate intermediary holding company in the US (capitalised and subject to regulation) to house their US subsidiaries; • the new rules for the regulation of over-the-counter derivative activities pursuant to Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, notably margin requirements for uncleared derivative products and the derivatives of securities traded by swap dealers, major swap participants, security-based swap dealers and major security-based swap participants, and the rules of the US Securities and Exchange Commission which require the registration of banks and major swap participants active on derivatives markets and transparency and reporting on derivative transactions; • the new MiFID II and Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 ("MiFIR"), and European regulations governing the clearing of certain over-the-counter derivative products by centralised counterparties and the disclosure of securities financing transactions to centralised bodies;

Element	Title
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") came into force on 25 May 2018. This regulation aims to move the European data confidentiality environment forward and improve personal data protection within the European Union. Businesses run the risk of severe penalties if they do not comply with the standards set by the GDPR. This Regulation applies to all banks providing services to European citizens; and • the finalisation of Basel 3 published by the Basel committee in December 2017, introducing a revision to the measurement of credit risk, operational risk and credit valuation adjustment ("CVA") risk for the calculation of risk-weighted assets. These measures are expected to come into effect in January 2022 and will be subject to an output floor (based on standardised approaches), which will be gradually applied as of 2022 and reach its final level in 2027. Moreover, in this tougher regulatory context, the risk of non-compliance with existing laws and regulations, in particular those relating to the protection of the interests of customers and personal data, is a significant risk for the banking industry, potentially resulting in significant losses and fines. In addition to its compliance system, which specifically covers this type of risk, the BNP Paribas Group places the interest of its customers, and more broadly that of its stakeholders, at the heart of its values. Thus, the code of conduct adopted by the BNP Paribas Group in 2016 sets out detailed values and rules of conduct in this area. Cyber security and technology risk BNPPF's ability to do business is intrinsically tied to the fluidity of electronic transactions as well as the protection and security of information and technology assets. The technological change is accelerating with the digital transformation and the resulting increase in the number of communications circuits, proliferation in data sources, growing process automation, and greater use of electronic banking transactions. The progress and acceleration of technological change are giving cybercriminals new options for altering, stealing, and disclosing data. The number of attacks is increasing, with a greater reach and sophistication in all sectors, including financial services. The outsourcing of a growing number of processes also
